Mandate

The Department of Education was established through the Education Decree of 1863 as the Superior Commission of Primary Instruction under a Chairman. The Education agency underwent many reorganization efforts in the 20th century in order to better define its purpose vis-a-vis the changing administrations and charters. The present day Department of Education was eventually mandated through Republic Act 9155, otherwise known as the Governance of Basic Education act of 2001 which establishes the mandate of this agency. The Department of Education (DepEd) formulates, implements, and coordinates policies, plans, programs and projects in the areas of formal and non-formal basic education. It supervises all elementary and secondary education institutions, including alternative learning systems, both public and private; and provides for the establishment and maintenance of a complete, adequate, and integrated system of basic education relevant to the goals of national development.

(Reference: DO 36, s. 2013)

The Schools Division Office I of Pangasinan commits itself to the fulfillment of the mandate of the Department in providing quality, relevant, accessible, liberating, and safe education for all.

The SDO DASHBOARD reflects not only the successes of the SDO but also the areas needing immediate action from the Office. The onset of COVID-19 in the early part of the school year 2020-2021 pressed many concerns needing collaboration of both the internal and external stakeholders.

The strategic directions set by the new management reiterates three principles: Shared governance, Creation of positive culture, and Safeguarding alignment of plans and actions.

SDO I PANGASINAN

Strategic Directions

Shared governance reiterates the establishment of good relations with governing councils and organizations that may provide inputs on the development and enrichment of plans. Through shared governance, the stakeholders co-own the programs, projects, and activities led by the organization as guided by RA 9155 or the "Governance of Basic Education," which states that everyone has a role to play in school governance.

The creation of positive culture presents a powerful and critical point - A great leader works to create one that promotes an environment of trust, high morale, and negligible drama. A culture that will support purposeful devising set to raise the standards of teamwork and public service directed to serve with utmost sincerity.

There is a difference between having great people and having the right people. Jim Collins discusses this concept in his book Good to Great. He talks about getting the right people in the right seat on the right bus. A leader needs to make sure that all members not only know where they are going but also want to be along for the ride. In here, standards set to be achieved for the SDO should be communicated strategically.

These principles shall bind the teaching and non-teaching staff of the SDO in delivering content in this unique situation. Collaboration of the Office of the Schools Division Superintendent, Curriculum Implementation Division, and School Governance and Operations Division was strategically conducted on June 15-18, 2021, to ensure that all potent programs, projects, and activities for implementation by the different functional divisions, offices, learning areas, and units in the next three years, (2021-2023) will have to be aligned to the ironed plans of top management.

In the midst of this unique situation several approaches were laid to implement the Basic Education Learning Continuity Plan (BE-LCP) under DepEd Order No. 12 s. 2020, to deal with the challenges and risks we face daily.

The different sections, units, and divisions were mandated to deliver quality service that are relevant to the needs craved to be undertaken to address present situations. Safety and sincere service are also instilled and reiterated in the desire to align efforts to improve performance indicators.

Preface

With the power of science, every researching teacher or school leader is immediately capacitated with integrity and credibility to teach his craft to the world.

The Schools Division Office I Pangasinan particularly its Planning and Research Unit has always been the advocate of employing methodical, analytical, and critical processes to solve issues that challenge the delivery of quality education and related services under its administration. It believes firmly that only through careful and thorough investigation of the root causes of problems and their scientifically verified solutions can effectively expunge the clouting mysteries surrounding educators and school leaders.

On this precept, the Research Office braces to propel a stronger culture of empirical thinking among its stakeholders to help them address critical issues in the classroom, school or district levels. Hopefully, this manuscript would empower them to come up with reliable and effective solutions of their own or make accurate evaluation by cautiously dealing with facts and evidences gathered. Encouraging the pursuit of research also underpins professional learning of knowledge and understanding. A mental or intellectual exercise, so to speak.

The Schools Division Research Committee henceforth presents this manual not only to promote the aforesaid purpose but also to serve as basis for formats, templates, requirements, prerequisites and all other necessities to forego either an action research or basic research.

Research questions will delve into three subthemes: (1) teaching and non-teaching qualifications and hiring; (2) career development; and (3) employee welfare.

a. Teaching and non-teaching qualifications and hiring

Research questions probe into teachers' existing qualifications and competency requirements vis-a-vis the needs of the K to 12 and special education programs. The topics extend to teacher education institutions, particularly on ways to upgrade pre-service preparation and DepEd's role in providing continuous quality training. Similarly, developing the support structure of DepEd through its non-teaching personnel is an important area of inquiry.
